REFLECTION OF SUMMER 2013

So, today marks the end of the summer season in Tramore, with a great fireworks display planned on Sunday evening. As we look back over the last few months, there is a lot to be thankful for. The weather was the best we have had in many a year. But what made these summer months special were for many, the people of the town who do so much - often behind the scenes - the unsung heroes who make this town so great.

We think of those in the tidy towns committee, and everyone who got behind helping cleaning the beaches and streets, (and the young people who cleaned Canons Field every day!) along with the council workers and locals. It was great work which got very positive comments during the summer. Our emergency services, particularly the Rescue 117 helicopter team at the airport; the coast guard; the lifeguards; the fire service; the Order of Malta and Gardai who daily look out for everyone - often at a great personal risk. There are many involved in so many activities who kept the town alive - arranging family and charity days; marathons; surfers; skating and swimming, tea after Mass on the Lady's slip and Canons Field! The team who arranged the Mass on the Prom with unprecedented crowds at Mass, and those who worked the amusements and retail outlets and restaurants. Our racing festival was the best in living memory, and our cultural exploits were available to all.

Often, we may take these things for granted. Tramore is a great town, and this summer, to see so many people come together to take pride in all that we do was something very special. To our visitors who came either for a day or the whole summer - thank you for being here! We really did appreciate your support! To our residents young and young at heart who did so much - take a bow!

Tramore isn't the town it is by being blessed to be on the coast and the services we have - it is the people who make this town!

For that, we should have great pride and give thanks for all we have!

Please remember in your prayers.....

We wish the very best of luck to all the children returning to school in the next few weeks.

Many of our young people are embarking on a new phase of life at this time of year. Some perhaps leaving home for the first time. We wish them well and offer them the following words of wisdom.

Blessing Of Solitude

May you recognize in your life the presence, power and light of your soul

May you realize that you are never alone, that your soul in its brightness and belonging, connects you immediately with the rhythm of the universe.

May you have respect for your own individuality and difference may you realize that the shape of your soul is unique, that you have a special destiny here, that behind the facade of your life there is something beautiful, good and eternal happening.

May you learn to see yourself with the same delight, pride and expectation with which God sees you in every moment
