27th Sunday in Ordinary Time Reflection

Reaching Out to Family

The followers of Christ can be caught between valuing the commitment of life's promises in marriage, and compassion for people whose marriages have broken up. Jesus values the commitment too: adultery is condemned as a sin against justice – of tampering in some way with the commitment made of one person to another.

Why is this followed by a comment about children that they should come to him? Obviously from love for children, and also for love of the child inside each of us, the child of God that we all are. So for the child of God who is suffering through the breakdown of commitment, Jesus is saying to come to him, be welcomed into his arms and be blessed.

While trying to value commitment in marriage and also in religious life, he is also reaching out to people who are in difficult, personal situations. We follow him in this, letting go of judgements about people's relationships. We never know people unless we have walked in their shoes and at their pace.

The church has tried in many ways to reach out to people who need care, protection and healing in Pope Francis' Letter on the Family, The Joy of Love.

In situations where there are differences in people's attitudes, especially in the family, it is good to keep doors of communication open. This is the way towards greater love and healing, and allowing Jesus be part of every aspect of life. Many parents have been happy in later years that they kept lines of communication open with children whose lifestyles may have been different from theirs.

Think of a family relationship for which you are grateful.
Lord, may your love be upon us, especially in our commitments.

Blessing For a Mother-to-be

You know your life has changed for ever,

For in all the days and years to come,
Distance will never be able to cut you off
From the one you now carry
For nine months under your heart

May you be blessed with quiet confidence

That God will guide you and mind you.

May the emerging spirit of your child

Imbibe encouragement and joy

From the continuous music of your heart.

So that it can grow with ease,
Expectant of wonder and welcome
When its form is fully filled
And it makes its journey out
To see you and settle at last
Relieved, and glad in your arms.

Members of Viatores Christi will speak at Masses in the parish of Tramore /Carbally during the Saturday Vigil Masses and the Sunday Masses on this weekend

What is Viatores Christi?

Viatores Christi, (VC) an association of Catholic lay missionary development workers, was founded in 1960 .

Today it has become an international volunteering Agency and a faith-based sustainable development and humanitarian organisation. VC brings about positive change by improving access to healthcare, education and opportunities in the marginalised communities in which we work.

Why are they talking at the Masses

- To raise awareness about the missionary work of the Church and the role of lay missionaries, both at home and overseas.
- To thank the people of the Waterford and Lismore Diocese for their support for our work over the years
- To offer an opportunity and preparation to anyone who feels called to volunteer their time, skills and talents
- To appeal for ongoing help both financially and above all through prayer.
- There will be a collection in aid of the work.
